Two Ways. Choose Which! There are two usual ways of doing what Nature sometimes does incom pletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stod alch Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected, the person employing it need not a x-pect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the Bitters, he can rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the Bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys, and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout, and malaria in all its forms. One is to swallow a drastic purgative

Early Lambs.

A great many lambs will be born this month, with a larger proportion in March. The difference between an early lamb that reaches the market in time to bring the highest prices and one that is later is such as to make one profitable, with the other of but little value The matter of raising early lambs for market receives but very little attention on many farms, the farmer taking no pains to couple the sheep in the Fall, but using rams indiscriminately. Everything the lamb, and coming into the world early in the season will be of but little advantage unless the lamb be from good stock and forced existence. The common flocks of ewes can be made to produce firstin growth from the first day of its class lambs if they be mated with class lambs if they be mated with Shropshire, Oxford or Southdown rams. The first two breeds are very large in size, but the latter is claimed to produce the superior careas, and is probably the best carcass, and is probably the best for crossing with common ewes Lambs soon learn to eat, and having done so, one-half the difficulty is over, for, with the aid of the milk from the dams, they grow rapidly. The difficulty in feeding lambs all they can eat is that the sheep will deprive them of it, but this can be avoided by constructing a pen which will permit the lambs to enter through a small opening (usually at the bottom), which must not be large enough for the sheep. The ewes and lambs should be confined in a small field or plot, so that they will not stray off from the feeding place. Small hoppers, filled with ground oats at first, and afterwards with whole oats, so that the lambs can have free access to them at all times, will cause them, if well bred, to gain at the rate of a half a pound in weight daily. Nor is this a heavy gain, as full bred Oxfords have been known to weigh nearly a hundred pounds when three months old, though such a weight is unusual. The early lambs will bring from $2.50 to $3, according to the demand, which is more than the price brought by a matured sheep, later in the season. The lamb that is late in birth, and which is not properly forced in growth, though only a few weeks younger than the early one, must be kept longer and sold at a lower price, and that is where the advantage of liberally feeding the Acker's Blood Elixir is the lambs (as well as their dams, in order to promote the vield of milk) lies. But the breed is also very important. Common lambs, even if dropped as early as January, will not increase as rapidly as good grades, and it will pay the farmer

to use a ram of a mutton breed in his flock, as its cost will be more

Every farmer is accustomed to salt his cattle, but not everyone knows why he does it, unless it is because the stock like it. But a moment's thought will show where the advantage lies. As soon as food enters the stomach, says the Rural Canadian, the natural tendency is at once fer fermentation to begin, and there arises a contest between this tendency and the digestive powers, and if these powers are vigorous and the process of fermentation is checked or intercepted, then no bad results will follow, the food will be digested, and the salt will not be needed, though at any time this will assist in the process of digestion. Salt keeps fruit from decaying until it can be digested and assimilated, and prolongs the time to allow the digestive organs to complete their work, and if food is taken in excess, as often happens when stock is in pasture, salt given frequently will be of much advantage. And further, salt is preventative of worms. When fermentation sets in, the conditions presented are favorabe to the existence of worms in the intestinal canals, and may possibly be endangered by the process. Consequently it should be a rule with stockmen to keep salt before their cattle or within and supply the want as needed. SHILOH'S ITALIZER is what you need for Constipation, Loss of Appeute, lissiness and all symptoms of Dyspensia. Tice is and 35 cents per bottle. Sold by sburn & Shoemaker.

I cannot speak too highly of th merits of your soil; none better in the State for stone fruits. The oranges now growing in my front yard are of as fine flavor and the trees of as thrifty growth as I have ever seen anywhere John S. Hutchins.

If your land were in fruit bearing trees, the land would be worth and would pay a good interest on an investment of $500 per acre. Our orchard of 75 acres adjoining your place, this year yielded at the rate of $300 per acre.

John C. Gray, Oroville,

Jas. Henniger, Gridley,

Executors Hilger's Estate.

On such land as yours, all kinds of fruit do well. A test of 75 of my apple trees showed a yield last year at the rate of 1,000 per acre. There has not been even one failure of my apple crop in 30 years. PHILLIP HEFNER, Central House.

My orchard is 27 years old, and adjoining your land which is exactly the same as mine. The net average yield per acre, without irrigation, has been not less than $200 per annum. I have not lost a fruit crop in 27 years from frost or any other cause. D. STREETER, Biggs.

I know the great capabilities of your place as a fruit ranch. In five years after planting, that land in olives would yield fully $300 per acre in oil, and will increase year after year until its annual yield will exceed $500. JOHN C. GRAY, Dist. Att'y.

This section of Butte County is one of the best in California for fruit culture. Such land as this, if set out to fruits, would, at the end of three years, it is estimated, be worth at least $500 per acre. At this rate, twenty acres in fruit within three years would be worth $10,000. The managers will take charge of the setting out of fruit trees for purchasers of land, and at the actual cost of doing the same.

The land is now for sale in tracts to suit at $100 per acre, on easy terms—one third cash, balances.

THE recent convention of borticulturalists at Riverside, in southern California, brought together many men of experience and ability. This part of Nevada was represented by Ross Lewers, the well-known fruit-grower of Washoe Valley. He read a very instructive and well prepared paper on Nevada fruit-growing which elicited much comment and diversity of opinion. He claimed that most of the fruits of the temperate zone can be raised in fair quantity and of good quality along the eastern base of the Sierra. No insect pests are there, save the codlin moth. He advanced the theory, which caused a great deal of discussion among the delegates, that the cutting down of the old forests of pine and fir, increased the expend for gas on his account. water supply by allowing all the snow to drift off the dry ridges into the canyons, where the streams head, and these immense depths of snow melt mere slowly than they would or did when more evenly distributed among the timber on the ridges, thereby lessening the danger from Spring floods, as well as furnishing more water during a longer season. As this is contrary to most theories, there was much discussion over it, and many contrary instances cited, but as Mr. Lewers' assertions were based upon an actual experience, extending over twenty-five years, they seemed unanswerable. The GAZETTE will publish the full text of Mr. Lewers' paper in a short time.

Now that Blaine declines the nomination, will Conkling come back into the ranks of the Republican party? He has heretofore said that so long as Blaine was the party leader he would stand aloof. But his friends say if the issue is to be the tariff he is prepared to take the stump for Cleveland; because he believes the Republican party cannot, without violating its pledges, and bringing reproach upon the name, refuse to reduce the taxes which weigh so heavily upon producers and consumers. The Republican party, however, will manage to get along without Conkling, if these are his views, and he can stand in with the Mugwump element to his heart's content and preach that Cleveland's message on the tariff was one of the wisest, be given on the evening of the 17th most bold and patriotic evidences instant at the Nevada Theater for of statesmanship of recent years.

WHAT strange anomalies are WHAT strange anomalies are found composing the natures of modern murderers. Anschlag, the murderer of the Hitchcocks, at Santa Ana, cut and hacked his victims in the most ferecious manner, and with a deliberation and nerve truly wonderful; but when a man in the crowd at his examination cried out lynch him, he fainted outright, and had to be carried to his cell. The murderer who has the animal instinct of destruction so largely developed in him that he largely developed in him that he can slay without a tremor, should have enough courage to make a deflant stand against those who seek his life. The modern murderer is truly a creature of queer impulses.

THE brutal attack on Governor Stevenson, by the San Francisco

The Governor is now in San Franeo, and, no doubt, will institute ibel, before he returns to Nevada.

THE Interior Department recomcands to the Senate that all tim-er lands in the violnity of the curses of the principal streams be rithdrawn from sale or occupancy and kept as woodland reserves, for the renewal of the public domain create by replanting; also that the

WHAT is probably the most venerable piece of furniture in existence has just been deposited in the British Museum. It is the throne of Queen Hatasu, who reigned in the Nile valley some 1,600 years be-fore Christ and 29 years before Moses. The now dilapidated object seems to be of lignum vitæ, the carvings of the legs being inlaid with gold, and those of the back with silver.

THE Poles and Hungarians at the Shenandoah mines shipped their women and children out of the place last Wednesday. This style of preparation for an outbreak has a grim sound. It is a matter for serious thought that we have imported hundreds of thousands of this kind of men into America.

THE bill to organize the Territory of Oklahoma has been favorably reported from the committee. Persistent agitation has gained one point. There is no good reason why that country should be closed to white settlement, but it should be opened by law, not by mob force.

A NEW ROAD.

The Central Pacific Raitroad Heading for Carson. The following airy-fairy tale appears in the Carson Appeal of the 12th inst.. "For some years the C. P. people have been considering the practicability of utilizing the old Placerville route for their road. The money expended in the last few years to keep the track clear from snow and the constant renewing of snow and the constant renewing of snow aheds would have built the proposed route. The Placerville route was the first surveyed, and would have been built had the people along that route had enterprise enough to have stood in on the proposition. They thought they had a dead thing, and so lost their opportunities. A survey has been made to Placerville already, and the surveyors had orders to keep the line well up, and the line as now surveyed is 200 feet higher than there is any necessity of having it, unless the management intends to go on to the lumber regions about Lake Tahoe. This is the present intention, and the plan is to strike the lake near Yark's Station, go about the lake above Glenbrook, and come down to Carson through King's Canyon, striking the old C. P. line by Wadsworth. The road has expended so much money in keeping the line up through the Sierra range that they consider the new route as a matter of actual economy. When the road is completed it will make Carson City the leading town in the State."

They were trying a civil case when McGlashan made assertions against the character of Mason, which brought Mason to his feet, at the same time calling McGlashan "an infamous liar." McGlashan quickly responded by planting his left duke in Mason's f ee, who responded by showering blows right and left on McGlashau's face. The interference of bystanders put an end to the fray for the present. No serious damage resulted to either party except the loss of their eyeglasses.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 3.-The Commer cial-Gazette is authority for the statement that Hon. Benjamin Jones, Chairman of the National Republican Committee, has received a letter from James G. Blaine declining to allow his name to be presented to the National Republican Convention as a candidate tor the Presidency. Mr. Jones, when asked whether Mr. Blaine's declination would prevent his friends from nominating him anyhow, said:

"As I am Chairman of the Nationa roper for me to have anything to say on the subject."

on the subject."
"Do you think Mr. Blaine would accept the nomination if tendered?"
"I have no authority to speak for Mr. Blaine and have no conjectures to offer on the subject. The letter speaks for itself, and I must decline to be interviewed on the question."

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 13.—John Sherman, who is in town, when he heard Blaine had refused to allow his name to go before the convention said he had oeen expecting such for some time. Every Republican would have been delighted to hear, and it was seriously regretted, that he had not concluded to make the canvass again. He thought the letter would cause a number of candidates to come to the front. He himself, proposed to enter the race and would contest honorably for the nomination. He had understood all along Blaine would not again seek the nomination, and it was on this hypothesis that he (Sherman) had entered the list.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Blaine's letter was the leading topic of political gossip to day. Blaine's avowed friends in Congress show a desire not to express their opinions, but intimate that the letter only emphasizes the disinclination which he has shown to press his claim for the nomination.

Prominent men, known as opponents to Blaine, hall his letter as actually a withdrawal on his part from the Presidential' race. Senator Allison, and others who may be classed as Presidential candidates, content themselves with saying that Blaine's expressions are unquestionably sincere, pressions are unquestionably sincere, but that he would have to yield to the will of the party that he should become its candidate if it should so express itself at the convention.

Among the prominent Democrats in both Houses, the expression seems to prevail that the letter is far from establishing the fact that Blaine will not be a Presidential candidate.

Supporters of the ring contend that the result of the combination will be to transfer the comper market from London to Paris, and claim that its formation has already increased the public fortune in France to the extent of 100,000,000 frances.

Henry Renderson, the Ravisher of Estelle Jose, Retarns to pressman, who was recently ordered out of the State by county officials, after it was found that the law was powerless to punish him for an alleged rape on the person of Estelle Jose, returned to Reno this morning for the purpose, it is stated, of taking his children to California, where he will in future reside. When he was kindly escorted to the California line by county officials and ordered to leave 'the State for ever, it was thought that the fear of violence at the hands of an outraged community would deter him from ever polluting the soil of Nevada again with his presence. His return shows an utter lack of sense or a total disregard for the law and the people. When the law failed to convict him, almost any other people on the Coast would have taken the question up, and punished him as he so richly deserves to be. The Jose family have been driven from their home, a young girl, but lifteen years old, ruined for life, a community of parents outraged, and the law defied, by a man known to be dishonest, who boastingly says, so it is stated, that he "sees no reason why he can't live here again, as he don't propose to tamper with white girls and ordered to leave 'the State for propose to tamper with white girls any more." There is a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, and to judge from the talk to be heard on the streets to-day, that time has about arrived in Reno. It is stated on good authority that the victim of this colored brute's lust stated after the trial, that when Henderson was endeavoring to persuade her to submit to him, he said that she would do no more than what a number of other girls, her playmates, had allowed him to do. This is from a credible

Unless Henderson should depart to-night—and if he does he should not be allowed to take his step-daughter with him, if all accounts daughter with him, if all accounts are true—the authorities should again arrest him and endeavor by a second trial to convict him. He was released on his own recognizance, it being understood that he leave the State never to return; he has broken his parole, defied the law, and now complacently looks upon the ruin he has whought, and conducts himself as though he had, in so doing, performed an act which should meet with praise instead of blame. If Hendersou is wise, and the GAZETTE hopes that it will not indicate the should meet with praise instead of blame. the GAZETTE hopes that it will not again be liable for contempt in so saying, he will leave town at his earliest convenience.

The schoolmates of Miss May Smith were called together one night last week to help celebrate the young lady's sixteenth birthday. The little folks had a very

Some time ago they bought a large range of Mes-rs. Parry & FitzGerald and thought they would put it up last week. They did so, and everything seemed lovely until a fifty-gallon whisky barrel connected with the range and used for holding hot water, burst with a loud report, flooded the kitcheu with hot water, enveloped the room with steam, and scared Tem Brown so badly he dropped on his knees to ask forgiveness for many ill-deeds. Those who were present and saw Tom perform, say he acted as if he was in the habit of going through the devotions daily. The cause of the explosion was the collection of steam in the barrel, a vent being considtime ago they bought a large range in the barrel, a vent being considered unnecessary by those who put

THE BIGGS & FARIS RANCH. One of the Finest Bodies of Land in California.

J. CURTIS, THIS PROPERTY CONSISTS OF 1.937 ACRES OF LAND SITUATED IN BUTTE

County, Cal., 73 miles north of Sacramento. The land lies one and a half miles along Feather elver, one of the largest rivers in California, and runs thence westerly for from a mile to two and a half miles. One end of the land it is one and a half miles of the town of Biggs; the central part lies within three miles of the flourishing town of Griddey. Both towns are on the California & Oregon Raliroad, the through line from San Francisco to Portland, Oregon.

The county road from Griddey to Oroville passes through the land. It is an exceedingly rich allowla soil, capable of a very high state of cultivation. It can be irrigated from the Feather River, although irrigation is not necessary, as crops without irrigation the Feather River, although irrigation is not necessary, as crops without irrigation have been raised successfully for twenty five years. There are 200 acres of low hill land, which is most excellent soil for vines. The land is well timbered with huge white oaks, one oak in particular measuring thirty-six feet in circumference four feet from the ground.

The wood alone is very valuable, it being estimated that if cut into cordwood it could be readily sold for the total sum of $40,000.

The land is all cultivated and produces thirty-dive bushels of wheat, or sixteen sacks, to the acre, and fifty bushels of barley. It will raise without irrigation eight tons of alfalfa to the acre. The land is within the citrus belt, and all kinds of citrus and deciduous fruits do well.

This is the best fruit land in the State of California and should be devoted to that purpose. There is a two-story house, also barns and outbuildings on the place as well as two small orchards.

The total yield this year from this place in grains, fruit and pasturage has been about $45,000. The owners have realized from rents alone $16,000 this year.

It lies well for outing up into small tracts. It can be out into Swaler tracts, which will sell readily at $100 per acre. If colonized and cut into smaller tracts we believe it could be so

It is located eight miles from seno and in a fertile agricultural section. The ranch consists of about 9% areas and a valuable water sight. The ranch has long had the reputation of being one of the most productive of its size of all the ranches in the Truckee Meadows. This year it has produced 800 tons of hay, pasture for 200 head of sock, vegetables and other products in value about $9000. By the expenditure of a few hundred dollars the ranch could be made to be even much more productive than it is at present. The soil is admirably adapted to the raising of a falsa, stock and vegetables. It has an erce lient house, barn and other buildings, a good orchard and other hundred to the remainder in five equal annual installments. Interest at 8 per cent, per annum.

The total valuation of this year's yield is not less than $3,600, and some one year's yield has umounted to as much as $5,000. As the ranch consists chiefly of pasture and meadow land, he expense of running the place is exceedingly small. The following, which was telebreathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thou ands of little tubes graphed from Chicago, is supposed to refer to Colorado, Wyoming and Montana, as it certainly does not apply to Nevada:

The cattle business of the Far West is in a bad way. There are surface indications that show conclusively that something is wrong, but of the true inwardness of the situation very little is known.

The cattle barons are working hard to close all sources of trustworthy information, and such facts as leak out in spite of them are meager and incomplete.

Not many years ago a wellstocked ranch was a veritable gold mine. The public soon discovered CALIFORNIA CAT-R-CURE the fact, and there was a rush to invest in cattle herds. So fast and furious was the craze that cattle on the hoof were actually worth more on the range than delivered here in Chicago. The result was that a few shrewd men made barrels of money by shipping cattle from this section of the country to the Far West. Such cattle were to the Far West. Such cattle were not acclimated, and, of course, fell easy victims to cold and starvation. Further than this, the eager investors were cheated, or cheated themselves, on the count. So anxious were they to purchase that they took "book count" without waiting for the slower and surer "tally," and the true number generally amounted to little if any more than 35 per cent. of the book count. A great many investors have lost all their money.

Switzerland's Mitch Cows.

Chicag Times. Switzerland has 660,000 milch cows, all of native breed, and divided into two sharply defined races, the brown and the spotted. The former color varies from deep fawn to mouse gray, the latter shade being held in most esteem. The brown race is short horned and considered as the original type. It corresponds to the remains found on the sites of the Roman cities of the third century of our ers. The skulls of this race, furthermore, are identical with those found in the Swiss Lake dwellings. The spotted race, peculiar to Bern and Fribourg, is believed to be of Scandinavian origin. From the milking point of view there is not very much difference between either race. The average daily yield is about two gallons, or twelve gallons per 112 pounds of live weight. The percentage of butter to the milk varies from two to
